

Senior Vice President and Provost

Glenville State College seeks an experienced academic administrator with proven leadership skills to become the next Senior Vice President and Provost.

As the second-ranking administrator at Glenville State, this senior officer is the principal administrator directing the educational programs of the College. Overseeing all operations pertaining to the academic program, the Senior Vice President and Provost serves as the liaison between the faculty and the President.

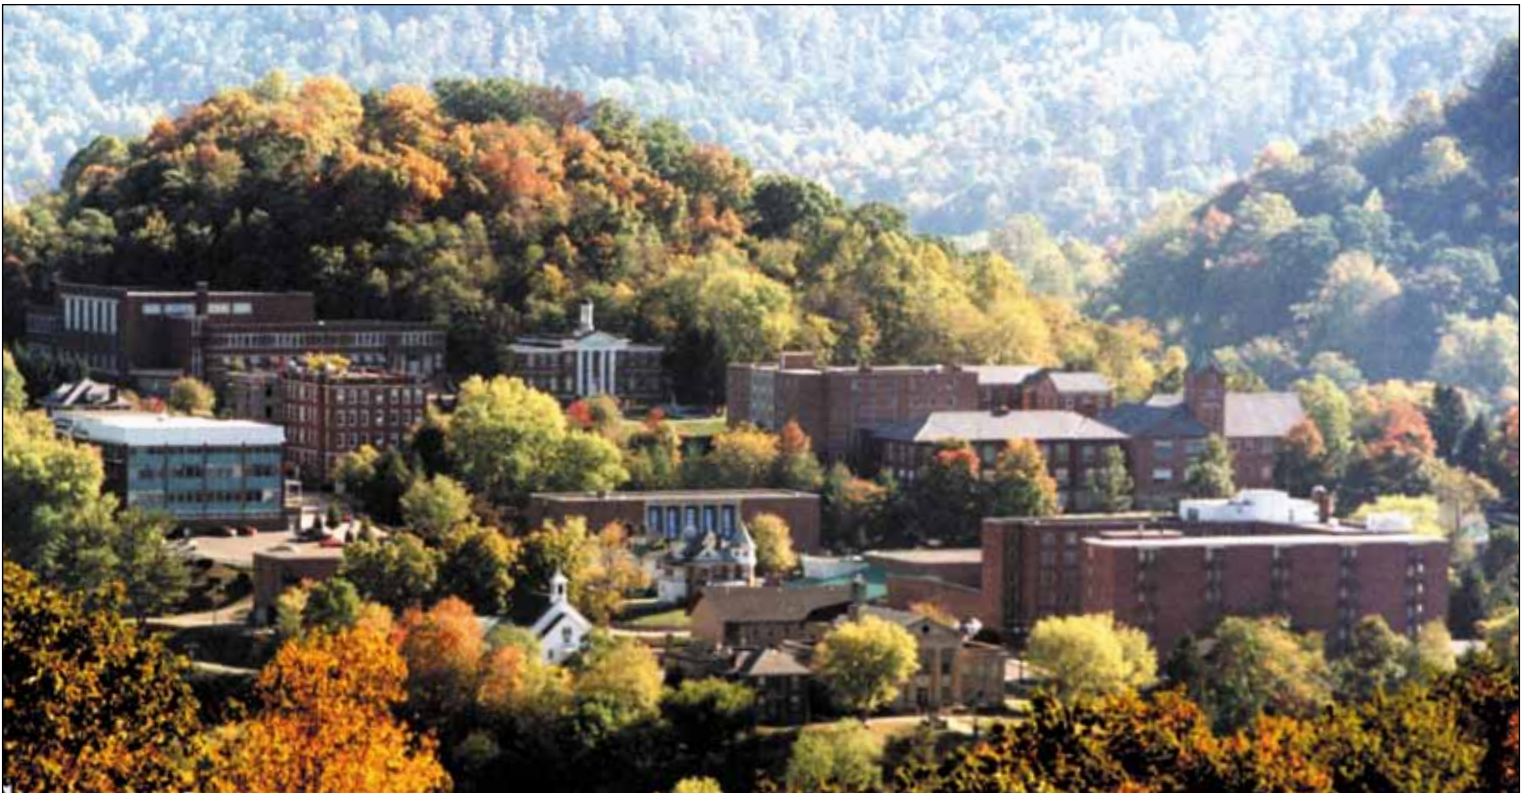

Committed to excellence in educating Glenville State students, the Senior Vice President and Provost will work collaboratively with others, enabling the College to accomplish its goals of strengthening and expanding academic programs. The administrator needs to be both a decision-maker and strategic planner who understands how to balance the challenges and opportunities of providing high-quality academic programs.

THE COLLEGE

Traditionally known as the “Lighthouse on the Hill,” Glenville State’s 30-acre main campus is located near the geographical center of West Virginia. The College’s Department of Land Resources is adjacent to 300 acres of land for outdoor projects.

Founded in 1872, Glenville State is a four-year, public liberal arts college that serves the higher education needs of central West Virginia. The College has gained wide recognition for its teaching excellence and student-centered community.

Current enrollment is 1,720 students, with 88 percent representing 52 counties across West Virginia. Approximately 79 percent of the students are under 25 years of age, with 56 percent being male.

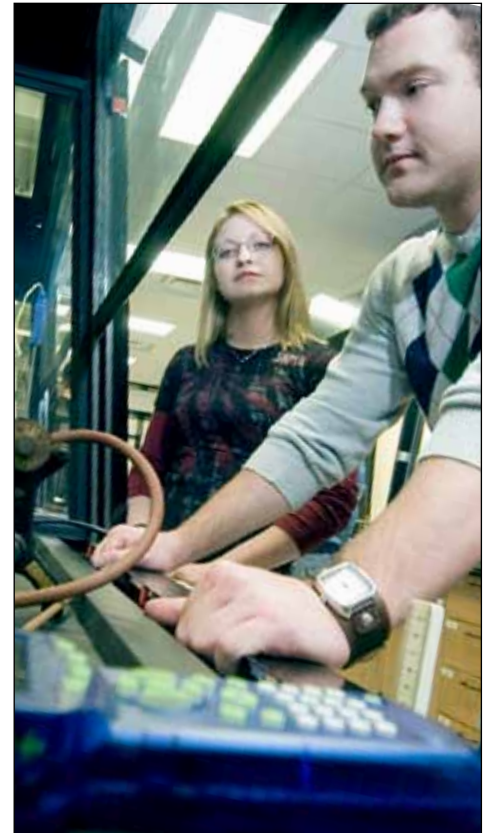

Glenville State offers more than 30 academic programs and awards both associate's and bachelor's degrees. The College is well-known for its outstanding teacher education program. The forestry program is one of only 22 in the country recognized by the Society of American Foresters, and graduates can become registered under state law to practice forest management in West Virginia.

Glenville State offers five online courses for science teachers through the JASON Project, which was developed by a host of researchers from National Geographic, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Providing a challenging academic program in an engaged-learning environment, faculty members are committed to knowing students as individuals and helping prepare them for successful careers. The student-faculty ratio is 18:1, with all classes, including labs, taught by faculty. The faculty includes 59 full-time and 27 part-time members.

Several facilities have been recently renovated, including the Mollohan Campus Community Center and the Science Hall. The Mollohan Center has a new 94-seat auditorium with 3000-watt surround sound, multi-function conference rooms with plasma display, and a state of the art cyber cafe with a big screen television. Most classrooms have Smartboards, data projectors and plasma screens to enhance the educational experience. The campus is equipped with wireless Internet.

Glenville State is a member of the NCAA Division II and the West Virginia Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The College fields five men's sports – basketball, cross-country, football, golf, and track and field – and six women's sports – basketball, cross-country, golf, softball, track and field, and volleyball. The football team was conference champion in 2008, and the women's basketball team has been in NCAA national tournaments twice in the past 10 years.

THE OPPORTUNITY

The Senior Vice President and Provost will have an exceptional opportunity to influence the future of Glenville State. This senior officer will build on the College’s commitment to “real life and real learning” and will develop and refine curricula that blend the body of knowledge and the practice of knowledge. The College anticipates further changes in its academic programs as it considers the role of higher education in the rapidly changing environment of today’s academic marketplace.

This position reports directly to the President and is part of the President’s Cabinet. Reporting to this senior officer are the academic chairs and deans, the Vice President for Enrollment Management, the Registrar, and the College Librarian.

The Senior Vice President and Provost will direct the College’s preparation for the re-accreditation process, scheduled for 2012.

QUALITIES & REQUIREMENTS

Candidates seeking this outstanding opportunity should have:

- An earned doctorate from a regionally accredited institution in an academic field offered at Glenville State (behavioral science, biology, business, chemistry, criminal justice, English, history, music, natural resource management, and teacher education)
- Significant academic administrative and faculty experience, preferably in a small college
- Effective communication skills, both oral and written, especially articulating the vision for the College
- The ability to advocate effectively for the faculty and the academic program
- A record of scholarly works and a commitment to foster faculty-engaged research
- Successful experience that demonstrates resourceful approaches to handling a budget and personnel matters
- The ability to lead collaboratively in a manner that promotes a supportive, responsive working and learning environment for faculty, staff and students

- A leadership style that inspires

- Experience with assessment and accreditation processes and requirements
- Thorough understanding of curriculum development, with a commitment to scholarship
- Knowledgeable of the structure of governance for state institutions of higher learning
- The highest standards of personal and professional integrity and credibility
- An understanding and appreciation for living in a small, rural community

GLENVILLE, WEST VIRGINIA

Near the geographical center of West Virginia, Glenville is located on the Little Kanawha River. The friendly town, with a population of 1,500, offers affordable living and beautiful views of the state's abundant natural resources.

Only 15 miles from Interstate 79, Glenville is a hour and a half from Charleston, West Virginia, and three hours from Pittsburgh.

cooperation, innovation, creativity and respect among faculty

- The foresight and ability to strategically position the College to achieve future success

Glenville State College is an equal opportunity and affirmative action employer. Women, members of minorities, and people with disabilities are encouraged to apply.

APPLICATION PROCESS

Send applications, including a cover letter and resume; expressions of interest, and referrals to:

Glenville@myersmcræ.com

Confidential phone inquiries are welcomed.

Consultant Team Leaders

- Kenny Daugherty
(478) 330-6223
kennydaugherty@myersmcræ.com
- Emily P. Myers
(478) 747-6432
emilymyers@myersmcræ.com
- Robb Myers
(478) 330-5615
robbmyers@myersmcræ.com

MISSION STATEMENT

Glenville State College is committed to educating students to be thoughtful, productive, engaged and responsible citizens. Areas of particular emphasis include: Teacher Education, Business, Behavioral Sciences, Fine Arts, and Land Resources. The College prides itself on providing students with a quality education.

CORPORATE OFFICE

515 Mulberry Street, Suite 200
Macon, Georgia 31201
Phone: 478.330.6222
Web: www.myersmcræ.com