Inviting Applications and Nominations for

PRESIDENT

The Board of Governors of Pierpont Community & Technical College seeks a dynamic, visionary leader with significant academic and senior administrative experience to serve as President of the College. Committed to advancing the institution to higher levels of achievement, this executive officer will embrace and articulate ardently the mission of providing opportunities for learning and training that enrich the lives of individuals and promote the economic growth of the region and the state.

ABOUT THE COLLEGE

Founded in 1974, Pierpont Community & Technical College is a comprehensive community college that strives to enhance the quality of life for people of North Central West Virginia through accessible, affordable, workforce-related training, and quality higher education opportunities. Formerly an academic component of Fairmont State University, the College became a separate academic unit in the state educational system in 2021.

The College is committed to student learning and focuses its resources on programs that prepare students for careers and advanced education in West Virginia and beyond. Many of the students are the first generation of their families to attend college, adults returning to college or enrolling in higher education for the first time, and transfer students. The College, therefore, offers its diverse student body a wide range of programs, flexible scheduling, and support services, all designed to foster success.

More than 1,600 students attend classes across the College's three schools: Business, Aviation, and Technology; Health Sciences; and General Education and Professional Studies. With more than 50 majors offered, students can earn an Associate of Art degree, Associate of Applied Science degree, and a Certificate of Applied Science. A variety of skill sets courses and certificate programs prepare students for a wide range of new or enhanced careers, such as web design, early childhood teacher's aide, basic mechanics, accounting paraprofessional, food services management, and electronic health record specialist. Courses are taught at more than 13 sites in a 13-county service area through off-campus programs.

The College closely identifies with its communities. Partnerships with business and industry, public schools, government agencies, and other organizations contribute to economic development. The College fosters enlightened and productive citizenship in its immediate location, the region, and the world.

Our Mission is to provide accessible, responsive, comprehensive education that works.

Our Vision is empowering individuals to transform their lives through education.

Pierpont is education that works! We will. . .

- Provide a comprehensive selection of career/technical educational opportunities at the certificate and associate degree levels developed through interaction with employers, employees, and college personnel.
- Offer transfer education opportunities enabling students to acquire an affordable general education background before matriculating to the college or university of choice.
- Provide opportunities for seamless transition from certificates to associate and baccalaureate degrees.
- Make available developmental educational opportunities to students who need assistance in improving academic skills to be successful in higher education.
- Develop and deliver continuing and community educational opportunities throughout North Central West Virginia such as lifelong learning opportunities, occupational recertification programs, and higher education opportunities for students enrolled in secondary schools.
- Provide workforce training and economic development activities for the citizens of north-central West Virginia based on needs of the community and region.
- Focus on development of cognitive, affective, and psychomotor skills to foster individual growth, career development, responsible citizenship, and commitment to lifelong learning.

THE CAMPUSES

Pierpont's Advanced Technology Center (ATC) in Fairmont, West Virginia, is the main campus of the institution. The ATC is home to a variety of programs including the majority of Pierpont's Workforce and Health Care programs. At the ATC, students can meet with advisors, financial aid, support services, and any student services activity needed.

Pierpont's Gaston Caperton Center campus is in Clarksburg, West Virginia, and is a focal point of higher education in the county. The facility offers courses in Liberal Studies, Business Technology, and the competitive Physical Therapist Assistant program. It also houses three computer labs, general meeting rooms, a full-service library, and two student lounges.

Established in 1993 in support of the North Central West Virginia aerospace industry, the Robert C. Byrd National Aerospace Education Center, at the North Central West Virginia Airport in Bridgeport, offers hands-on training from expert faculty members. The Center's Aviation Maintenance Technology program is part of the School of Business, Aviation, and Technology.

Pierpont has Regional Locations throughout its 13-county service area at career technical education centers and high schools. A full range of classes are offered for fall, spring, and summer semesters for traditional, non-traditional, and high school students through evening and daytime classes.

THE OPPORTUNITY

This presidential search is an opportunity to lead one of West Virginia's largest community and technology colleges. Focused on student success, committed to providing a wide range of programs to support and grow the state and region's workforce, and engaged in the community and its future, Pierpont has a vibrant future.

Building on the past accomplishments of Pierpont, the President will further strengthen and expand programs, technology, and services while introducing ones that address emerging trends and needs in the marketplace. The President also will provide College-wide leadership to multi-campus programs and initiatives. A high priority will be to enhance Pierpont's profile across its service region and throughout the state as it fulfills the mission and vision of the College.

The President will work collaboratively with others, finding common ground when there are diverse viewpoints. Both a decision-maker and strategic planner, the executive officer will understand how to balance and prioritize challenges and opportunities and to foster a work and learning environment that values and embraces its diverse, inclusive, and equally accessible campuses in its rural environment. By providing a clear vision and strong strategic direction for the College, the President will keep the institution on target in accomplishing its goals and aspirations. One initiative will be to evaluate Pierpont's academic and administrative structure to improve its organization.

The President will have a record of establishing effective connections, collaborations, partnerships, and coalitions. This senior officer will have demonstrated effective administration of fiscal and human resources and understands funding and budgeting processes at the state level.

This executive officer will seek partnerships that strengthen and expand programs and, as the principal fund raiser for the institution, will maintain established and develop new relationships, both public and private, that result in increased financial resources to achieve goals. The President will lead collaboratively as a valued member of the local community, as well as Northcentral West Virginia.

North Central West Virginia

North Central West Virginia has been one of the state's strongest and steadiest economic regions for the past decade. The region has approximately 260,000 residents with stunning landscapes and warm hospitality.

The four-county area has some of West Virginia's best small towns to call home, including highly rated public schools. Both Fairmont and Morgantown are located along the banks of the beautiful Monongahela River.

The area is home to several outdoor attractions including the West Virginia Botanic Garden and Coopers Rock State Forest. There are also three state parks within a thirty-minute drive of the campus.

If a metropolitan getaway is what you need, Pittsburgh is just an hour-and-a-half drive from Fairmont.
